

Urban Solid Waste Management [BORRADOR]

Código de Beca: 406

Nombre: Urban Solid Waste Management

Descripción: Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

Singapore Environment Institute, National Environment Agency

Singapore Environment Institute (SEI) is the training and knowledge division of the National Environment Agency (NEA). Within NEA, SEI distils and documents the knowledge residing with experienced staff, as well as knowledge from other relevant sources, for transfer to the next generation of officers via its training programmes.

Course Objectives

This course will provide participants with an overview of the tools and conceptual frameworks of urban solid waste management. Participants will also learn about the legislation and enforcement policies for the management of waste product in Singapore. Participants will also be able to gain an overview of how Singapore plans, develops and manages its advanced waste management system.
